

ENVIRONMENTAL FEDERATION OF OKLAHOMA

Matt Fullerton

Matt Fullerton is a biologist with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service out of the Oklahoma Ecological Services Field Office in Tulsa, Ok. He works primarily with federally listed bats and cave/karst species but is also the office lead for the red-cockaded woodpecker. Throughout his career, Matt has worked on a variety of conservation projects involving several different plant and animal species and is experienced in various aspects of the Endangered Species Act (ESA), Particularly Sections 7 and 10 of the ESA.