

ENVIRONMENTAL FEDERATION OF OKLAHOMA

Andrew Pawlisz

Andrew is an American Board of Toxicology certified toxicologist with experience in government, industry, and consulting related to environmental risk assessment, remediation, and compliance. He has worked on various contaminants of concern, including the recently emerging PFAS. After a series of job postings in Canada, New England, Florida, and Texas, Andrew is a full-time Oklahoma resident now living and working in the greater Tulsa area.