Summary of Services or Products

LightBox is the world's leading real estate information and technology platform — and we're on a mission to completely modernize the industry. How?

By providing the most comprehensive set of property characteristics, tax parcels and building footprints, and spatial and environmental data — all on a single, end-to-end platform; connecting people, businesses, and data to provide a deeper understanding; and delivering tools to give you more control and help you work more confidently.

We deliver the world's broadest, deepest real estate data along with location intelligence and simplified workflow for commercial and government agencies, brokers, developers, investors, lenders, insurers, technology providers, environmental consultants, and valuation professionals.

Achieve faster, easier, more cost-effective decision making, and spend less time finding and understanding your data and more time solving problems.

LightBox empowers decision makers with authoritative data and industry-leading insights that solve each customer's unique challenges, no matter the market. Our capabilities enable our clients to connect with and unlock the value of their own proprietary data sets.
